Leiden University Press, 2013. Book Condition: New. Brand New, Unread Copy in Perfect Condition. A+ Customer Service! Summary: "On traditional Japanese robes, cords around the waist were threaded through netsuke, carvings made of ivory, wood, metal, horn, ceramic, coral, stone and nuts. The netsuke depict animals, humans and deities, and collectors sometimes vie for the creepier forms. . . . Established collections, kept intact, are the subject of two new books. . . . Ghosts and Spirits from the Tikotin Museum of Japanese Art explains how the German dealer and collector Felix Tikotin amassed his collection, starting in the early 1900s. During World War II, he hid the valuables in a basement in The Hague, and his collection survives in a museum he founded in Israel. In the new book, netsuke represent demon masks, mythical beings riding fish, and exorcists."
