Not illustrated. 1919 Excerpt: . . . and all St. Louis members appear to be optimistic concerning the result of their efforts, despite the strong competition from Chicago and Los Angeles. One of the features of the campaign is the preparation of an article outlining the reasons why St. Louis is the logical point for the next convention. To insure that no talking point would be overlooked in the article, the Purchasing Agents Association of St. Louis has solicited articles from all members in the city willing to enter the contest. The leading article is to be determined by the selection of the Mayor of the city. To lend additional interest to this friendly competition, The Purchasing Agent has offered a prize of fifty dollars to the author of the selected contribution, which will be published in the September issue. H. P. POTTER RETIRES H P Potter, for many years purchasing agent of the American Woolen Co. , of Boston, last month announced his retirement. He was succeeded by G. K. Cutler, formerly assistant purchasing agent of the company. J3y tfie Editor W ON SHOPPING HEN the controversy between the United States Railroad Administration and the t steel interests was at its height, one of the important trade journals in the field found occasion to editorially announce: Mr. Hines new blast need not be taken seriously. He has been talking all along the language of a purchasing agent, not that of a business man with a large outlook and appreciation of prevailing conditions...
