The Executive Committee met at ten o'clock. At noon the President of the Association, General Joshua L. Chamberlain, held a reception; and later the company adjourned to the Crystal Dining Room for luncheon. After the good things provided by mine host had been discussed and secluded, the President introduced Rev. E. E. Strong, D.D., who spoke briefly of the life-work of Rev. Dr. Jacob Chamberlain, physician, explorer, scholar, and preacher. Jacob Chamberlain went in 1859, to India, where he labored as a missionary for nearly fifty years. Being able to speak in several of the native dialects, he was equipped for work of wide extent, which included a revision of the Bible in the Telugu language. He was the father of Jacob Chester Chamberlain, who died some two years ago. At the conclusion of Dr. Strong's address, the...
